The Metamor merchants were in a great state of excitement and the alarm was increased by the report that Carnaval was approaching with seven hundred men.

Trial of the Cleveland Rioters.
CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—8 P. M.

The Court House was filled this morning, to witness the proceedings in the case of the rioters. Samuel B. Adams, Esq., prosecuting attorney, conducted the prosecution.

The following are the names of those implicated: James Derrar, Francis Deabolt, Victor Felix, James Depee, Robert Wild, James Nelson, Geo. Cooper, Martin German, Wm. Gustovan, Edward Quinn, John Millard and John Kelly. They were defended by A. G. Riddle Esq., Mr. Cce, Mr. Davitch, S. J. Noble, L. Prentiss and Counselor Abbray.

William Biade was first examined.—He was owner of the college, and leased it to Messrs. Williams and Smith. He swore that the damage to the building was $350; he had made a contract to repair it for the same; the building was fired and considerably burned.

Wm. H. Drake, medical student, examined.—He gave a full history of the riot, and identified several of the principals.

H. B. Smith, Professor of Chemistry, examined.—He said the amount of his property destroyed could not be less than $4.0. There were $60 worth of chemical materials.

FROM THE SOUTH.
THE SPANISH CONSUL AT NEW ORLEANS—THRASHER'S RELEASE, ETC.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 19, 1862.

The Southern mail is through from New Orleans.
The reception of Mr. Labarre, the Spanish Consul, at New Orleans was marked by considerable manifestations of displeasure by the authorities. A large crowd gathered on the wharf, hissing and threatening violence.
The news of Mr. Thrasher's release occasioned great regret at New Orleans.

The Spirit Rappers at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19 1886.

The final termination of the meeting of mediums of spirit rappers proved a sad failure. The rappings were scarce, and the practical demonstrations very unsatisfactory.

Theatrical and musical.
AYER PLACE OPERA HOUSE—Meyerber's grand opera of "Robert le Diable" will be represented again this evening, with Estienne, Bertucca, Balvi, and Marin, in the leading characters.
BOWERY THEATRE—The beautiful play entitled the "Hunchback" will be the fascinating feature at this theatre to-night in which Miss Fanny Wallack and Mr. K. will pre-empt the principal characters. The new and successful drama of "Speakers Ahead," will terminate all.

BROADWAY THEATRE—Mr. Forrest will appear this evening in his renowned character of Spartacus in a new exciting musical comedy of the "Gladiators." Mr. Conway will appear as Pharrizius and Miss Poniat as Seneca. The excellent comedy of "The Married rake," in which Mrs. Brough's will appear, will be performed in conjunction with the tragedy.

BURTON'S THEATRE—The very popular comedy entitled the "Poor Gentleman" and the great musical treat called "Cinderella" will form the amusements to be

NATIONAL THEATRE—The receipts of this evening will be for the benefit of the infant prodigy, Master Murray. Three highly attractive pieces have been selected, namely: "The drama of 'Ambrose Gwyette'" and "Yankee Jack" and the favorite pantomime of the "Finky Cobbies." Give the little fellow a bumper.

MR. AGONIST HALL.—Dodworth's celebrated band will give a grand concert at this establishment to-night. The programme embraces many beautiful musical selections.

Police Intelligence.
Charge of False Pretences.—Officer Green, of the lower police court, yesterday arrested a man by the name of G. H. Faneett, on a warrant issued by Justice Lothrop, wherein the said Faneett stands charged with obtaining the sum of $250 from Wm. Bennett by false and fraudulent representations. It seems that on the 17th day of November last the complainant lent money to the defendant, who purchased from the latter a certain stock of goods, consisting of silver tea and breakfast service.

No 283 litigation was accepted by Fassett, in which he paid the sum of $225 in cash, and at the time and previous to the purchase, Fassett, represented to deponent that there was neither a mortgage or other incumbrance whatever upon said store, property or effects, when in fact and in truth a mortgage was existing on the said property to the amount of $825, given by Fassett some two months previous, thereby falsely representing to deponent, at the time of selling him the said goods, which he alleges was done with an intent to cheat deponent.

upset Winton, who then occupied a store in Washington street, under the pretenses that he (Winton) wanted a book keeper or clerk; but, before engaging him, Madden was induced by Winton to loan him $200, as security for the faithful performance of his duty; and in order to secure Madden for the amount, Winton conveyed to him a bond and mortgage on the stock in the store, consisting of large casks, represented to contain wine and liquor. A few weeks passed on, and Madden could clearly see that his work was a sham, and that Winton was a cheat, and became satisfied that he was humbugged and for this reason abandoned the work and then abandoned the store.
